Overview

It's an inspirational book written over a several years as the Creator of the Universe dealt with heart issues on my personal journey.

This 38-page adult, contemplative parable about the monarch butterfly, blends scripture, poetry and beautiful images. Despite modern technology, many people in today's world find 'waiting' to be a challenge.

"Have patience!"

"Stop fretting!"

Sound familiar? Join me in discovering the True Source of waiting in stillness and rest through this contemplative parable. Come wait with me ... take your time.

About the author

Raised in Hamilton, New Zealand, Barbara has discovered through her experiences in nursing, pastoral care and burnout, that waiting has a purpose. "It's how we wait that matters," suggests Barbara.

Learning how to 'be' rather than to 'do' is a journey Barbara has been on since experiencing burnout. Observing the life-cycle miracle of the monarch in her garden became a personal metamorphosis. "The butterfly won't survive if it's assisted out of the chrysalis before due time!"

Barbara admits that she loves words, especially puns, and The WORD, being strongly influenced by her paternal heritage. "I'm painting pictures with words, and giving images a voice."

Barbara is amazed at the creative juices flowing in her latter years. "I've been like a lady-in-waiting... through prayers and tears for years!"
